

Hey Peeps!

A lot has happened since January's news and notes so let's get down to business.

In WWC News:

- Since last we spoke we have added Workshop Guest Walter Jon Williams. Visit his website at <http://www.walterjonwilliams.net/>*
- We have also updated our website. Memberships are now available through PayPal as well as mail in. Tell all your friends they want to attend.*
- At our last committee meeting we had a very in depth discussion on a science guest so keep an eye on our website and twitter feed for an announcement on that.*
- There have been on-going talks with other writers groups as well as educational institutions to join in our convention in order to give the best overall experience to our attendees.*
- We have added some pieces to the Gallery section of our website. We suggest you look at the lovely artwork that has been sent to us and encourage you to visit the websites of those artists.*
- We have updated our membership list on the website. If you have purchased a membership please check to make sure you are on there and the information is correct.*
- We wish to thank the artists and concept designers who contributed material for a WWC logo and poster. It was difficult to choose what to go with as all of the ideas were great. But choose we did and will have our logo on our website and a poster available as soon as the fine detail work is complete.*

Announcements and Calendar Items:

- Rob Sawyer will be in Calgary on Tuesday February 22. He will be doing a talk on Science Fiction to Science Fact at the Ironwood Stage and Grill (1229, 9 Ave. SE) here in Calgary at 6:30 P.M. Our illustrious chairman, Randy McCharles, will be moderating this talk. We encourage everybody to attend.*
