

Hey Peeps!

We have been busy, busy bees. Here is your dose of what's new and exciting since last month.

In WWC News:

- First, we want to thank the many groups who are joining us in our endeavours to make this event the best possible. Please check out the links page on our website and help support all of them.*
- Robert J. Sawyer has joined our convention as a science guest. He has done much research and is quite knowledgeable in many fields. We look forward to hearing from him in this capacity. Visit Rob's website at www.sfwriter.com*
- We regret to inform you, due to circumstances beyond our control, Simon R. Green will not be attending*
- As you should be aware, we will not be hosting an art show however, we would like to encourage our artistic community. Keeping in mind we have artist R. Cat Conrad (<http://www.artistsinresidence.com>) (husband of Rachel Caine) attending. We will have programming for the art community and encourage artists to attend and participate. On the website we put a call to artist, besides putting answering artists on our gallery section, we also wish to use their artwork throughout the convention both on signage and as pieces we print out. These will, of course, have the artists' name and web address on them. We encourage you to support our artists.*
- Programming has had some productive meetings and would like to hear from you. Let us know what you'd like to see and we will endeavour to keep you all happy.*
- In case you can't get enough of our guests, in addition to attending the convention, we are arranging readings/talks by our guests at the Calgary Public Library as well as other venues prior to the convention.*
